Dear Parents/Guardians

We are nearing the end of the school year and, from today, Friday, the boys will no longer have formal homework. The teachers will collect all reading bags, folders, readers and library books. Please check to make sure you do not have any of these at home.

We would like to take this opportunity to thank you for all the hard work done at home with the boys this year. This support from home is invaluable in helping the boys to reach their potential.

You can continue to encourage your son to read during the holidays by visiting the library and providing him with a wide range of different reading materials eg. Comics, newspapers and puzzle books.

Board games and card games provide highly enjoyable ways to maintain maths skills. Encourage your son to count and do simple addition. You can also improve problem solving skills by including your son in discussions as to how to solve simple problems around the house. Eg How are we going to fit all the suitcases into the boot?

Thank you for your continued support,

Le gach dea-ghuí

Clodagh Farrell
